1. "TEACHING IN THE MULTICULTURAL CLASSROOM" STARTS MAR 2

Course #EDUX 5390 A, B, C or D (A New Course)

WHEN: March 2 - 16, 2022 (plus online and outside practicum)

NOTE: This course is a hybrid of face-to-face and online learning. See below for more info*

COURSE DESCRIPTION: This course will assist classroom teachers to optimize the learning experience for students in the multicultural classroom. It will support educators in a pluralistic society to remain sensitive to the learning needs, personal interests and cultural characteristics of their students. The course further supports classroom teachers in helping them more fully understand the goal of multicultural education in creating educational opportunities that are equal for all students and in helping every child acquire the knowledge, attitudes, and skills needed to function effectively in a democratic society.

2. "WORKING WITH CHALLENGING STUDENTS: BULLIES AND VICTIMS" STARTS APR 4

Course #EDUX 5450 A, B, C or D (A New Course)

WHEN: April 4 - 18, 2022 (plus online and outside practicum)

NOTE: This course is a hybrid of face-to-face and online learning. See below for more info*

COURSE DESCRIPTION: This course will offer participants the opportunity to collaborate with fellow teachers and administrators in order to better understand the negative impact of bullying behavior. During this course, participants will develop ways to work with bullies and victims, improve the self-image of both, and create ways to ensure that all students can learn in a safe and fear-free environment. As participants consider how bullying often obstructs the ability of students to progress both academically and socially, they will examine and collaborate on solutions to this serious issue in today's schools.

3. "EFFECTIVE PRACTICES FOR AT-RISK STUDENTS" STARTS MAY 2

Course #EDUX 5210 A, B, C or D (A New Course)

WHEN: May 2 - 16, 2022 (plus online and outside practicum)

NOTE: This course is a hybrid of face-to-face and online learning. See below for more info*

COURSE DESCRIPTION: This course will explore effective practices for working with children deemed to be at risk of educational failure. Participants will examine ways that they can work together with their schools to engage students and motivate them toward success. The use of creative and flexible scheduling to extend learning time, differentiating instruction, organizing heterogeneous student groupings and designing classrooms to accommodate different learning styles are some of the ways educators can effectively improve the learning environment for all students, including children considered at risk.

4. "ORGANIZING THE CLASSROOM FOR MAXIMUM ACHIEVEMENT" STARTS JUNE 13

Course #EDUX 5510 A, B, C or D (A New Course)

WHEN: June 13 - 27, 2022 (plus online and outside practicum)

NOTE: This course is a hybrid of face-to-face and online learning. See below for more info*

COURSE DESCRIPTION: This course assists teachers in streamlining their classrooms for maximum individual responsibility, minimum stress, and superior achievement. Participants will focus on procedures for maximizing the use of time for instruction and learning. Methods for the delegation of responsibility and consequences for students who detract from the ongoing educational process will be covered as well as ways teachers can maintain a quality learning environment without overtaxing their energies or their pocketbook.
